

These are the some of the picture of the face, I extract from Image using the pillow library and face_location.

These Pictures are the training data of my CNN Model for classification of different faces.

